Key Learnings

Research Drives Better Products

Understanding user pain points revealed valuable opportunities.

Positioning Matters

Users care about outcomes more than features.

Design Supports Communication

Every section should reinforce the product story.

Execution Creates Value

Research insights must translate into tangible user experiences.

SaaS Websites Should Convert

The goal is not to explain everything, but to guide users toward action.

FINAL SUMMARY

Conclusion

Through product research, competitor analysis, content strategy, and landing page design, I created a product concept and marketing experience for MeetingFlow AI.
